

SOCIAL SERVICE BUREAU NEEDS CASH

Money is particularly needed just at present by the Bureau of Social Service and contributions are urged in order that proper preparation and immediate care may be taken of the unfortunate and destitute of Kingston.

All cases are being thoroughly investigated by Mrs. Laura MacMillan, the agent of the bureau, and if anyone doubts the conditions and the need of an immediate response, particulars of some of the cases may be obtained by anyone interested from Mrs. MacMillan. Names of course are not supplied, except to the officers of the bureau, whose work like that of similar institutions elsewhere is conducted quietly.

The approach of winter finds many widows and their families in circumstances which require the immediate expenditure of money for necessities. Particularly is this the case in the care of sick persons and invalids, of whom there are many in Kingston. Not only are the sick, but also children in need of nourishing food, which experience has proved can be more cheaply purchased by the bureau than in any other way.

Many men and women in Kingston will be glad to do their share toward furnishing funds for the bureau. It is a simple matter and very inexpensive. Membership in the bureau may be obtained by anyone on the payment of one dollar. A sustaining membership may be obtained on the payment of five dollars. Kingstonians are not confined to these sums, however, and all contributions will find a place where they will accomplish the most good.

Mrs. MacMillan finds that there is also a need for children's clothing. New clothing is needed for many children, but good clothing that is not new is also acceptable. Provided it is warm, because many cases have been brought to the attention of the bureau in which children, sometimes very small children, were suffering from the lack of it.

At all seasons Kingston has responded to the appeals for help, but particularly at this season of the year, and prompt responses will be most acceptable and will be sincerely appreciated. All contributions, whether of money, clothing or anything else, may be sent to Mrs. MacMillan at the Municipal Building, 27 East O'Reilly street.

JUDGE PARKER FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

Urging preparedness for war, Alton B. Parker addressed a large audience in the East Orange, N. J., high school on Tuesday night. The meeting was held under the auspices of the National Security League.

"We must heed the lessons of this war," said Mr. Parker. "We must heed them in order to make sure that in this country government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish. It can be accomplished without war. All that is needed is such preparation for protection that no other nation dare cross the seas to attack us. The president has pointed the way and all living secretaries of war and navy concur with him that preparation is absolutely necessary. All that is now needed is that the people from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the great lakes to the gulf shall demand that their representatives in congress shall act."

Mr. Parker severely criticized the policies of William Jennings Bryan without naming him, and declared that the adoption of these policies meant leaving the coast lines defenseless and subject to the will of our enemies.

High School News Notes.

This evening at 8 o'clock the Webster-Hayne debating club will hold the second of its preliminary debates in the High School Auditorium. This time the question is resolved: That the Philippines should be given their independence. The affirmative is taken by Hasbrouck (leader), Sibley and Pelen, while the negative is upheld by Goldwasser (leader), Winne and Haynes. No admission will be charged to the debate and the public is cordially invited. After the debate an informal dance will be given in the gymnasium for the benefit of the football team, and a small admission of 10 cents will be charged.

A mass meeting of the students, as scheduled for this afternoon at the close of the afternoon session, the purpose of which is to strengthen school spirit and arouse enthusiasm to add in the drawn battle to be fought at the Athletic Field on Thanksgiving Day at 2:30. The Kingston boys will have to encounter the fastest and heaviest team of high school players in northern New York. Mechanicsville has like our own team, so far, had a championship season, and every ounce of support possible is needed by our players that they may carry off laurels they have thus far collected.

TELLS OF PROFITS FROM BOARDERS

Ex-Supervisor McMullin Fed Them for $2.50 a Week Per Capita—Broadhead Farm "Isolated" by Reservoir, Summer Guests Come No More—Two Claims for Total of $7,500—Argument Over "Indirect Damages."

For a second time former Supervisor James McMullin, Democratic warhorse and man of affairs of the town of Olive, is a claimant against the city of New York for damages in connection with the construction of the Ashokan reservoir and dam. On the first occasion through Commission No. 8 Mr. McMullin obtained compensation for a trifle less than 24 acres of land taken by the city for reservoir purposes. Now he has appeared before Business Damage Commission No. 4 asking for $5,000 for indirect damage to his real estate and for $2,500 for damage to his boarding house business. These are two separate claims joined for hearing at one time and are made under a section of the law which permits claims to be filed "for decrease in the value of established business" and for "indirect damages" to property sustained as a result of the many changes which have taken place in the reservoir district. The hearing began on Tuesday afternoon and will be continued after the Edgar Pelen case is completed today.

Mr. McMullin lives on a farm of 68 acres on the south side of the reservoir, three-quarters of a mile from where formerly was located the Broadhead Farm, a station of the Ulster and Delaware railroad. His house contains 14 rooms and from 1903 to and including 1913 he took in summer boarders. Mr. McMullin testified he would continue to accommodate city folk seeking rest and change, but they decline to come any more, and he places the blame on the metropolitan.

The erstwhile boarding-house keeper had barely taken the stand before an argument developed between his attorney, Harrison T. Slosson, and the city's attorney, William M. Speer, over the status of a claim for indirect damages. "Prior to the enactment of chapter 724 of the laws of 1905," said Slosson, "there was no provision relative to indirect damages to property because of the city's acts. Under the old rule, when a portion of the property was taken, the question was as to value of the property before and its value after the taking, the difference being the amount of the damages. When the McMullin land case was tried, it was held that the commission appointed to make the award had no jurisdiction to try anything except the question of the land taken. I brought up myself before commission 8 the question of the effect of the taking of the land on the boarding house business, and under the rulings and decisions it was impossible for McMullin to make a claim at that time for indirect damages. As a matter of fact, the conditions did not change radically until 1907 or '08."

"So far as the farm is concerned, we have received damages for the city's carving out," concluded Mr. Slosson. "But we contend we never have had our day in court on indirect damages—the isolation of this farm from a railroad station, the graph line, churches and other elements which go to make up community life."

Attorney Speer—"The city's proposition is that the outcome of a hearing before a former commission is a bargain."

Chairman William H. Gibson, associated with whom in hearing the cases in the court house are Philip Elting of this city and George Deyo of Nanapanoch, asked: "Is it not an admitted fact that you could prove business damage before a commission which had jurisdiction only over land?" Neither of the attorneys replied.

Mr. Speer at this juncture tried to read into the record some of the testimony given by McMullin at the land hearing but was balked by Mr. Slosson's objection.

The city's attorney then declared that his contention was that any testimony relative to damage to the farm was irrelevant, incompetent and inadmissible.

McMullin Tells of Isolation.

Under direct examination, McMullin said the Broadhead station reached from his place by a road of his own building, was removed June 12, 1913. The tracks of the U. & D. were relocated and there have been no trains "through the valley" since. His nearest station now is Cold Brook, six miles distant. Before the city of New York began changing the landscape there were three stores at Broadhead, viz. Haver & Boice's, Ira Elmdorf's and George Keller's. There were up to date stores in West Shokan also. Now the only store in the immediate neighborhood of claimant's place is a small establishment conducted by Asa Bishop, who keeps no dry goods, boots, rubbers, etc. "It is very unsatisfactory to buy goods from the little stores now within a radius of three or four miles," McMullin said he did some trading at A. D. Winne's in Ashokan and other trading in Kingston. The nearest butcher shop is two miles away. The nearest doctor is Hibbard, employed by the Winslow Co., at its camp at Brown's Station, and he is not often available for outside calls. Dr. DuMont and Dr. Bloom used to be located within two miles of claimant's home. The former is now at Ashokan, nine miles away. McMullin told of the wiping out or removal of churches in the vicinity. The Reformed Church, which his family attended, formerly was two miles away; now it is nine miles distant. Formerly there was a Catholic Church, but the only Catholic services now, he was told, are held in the camp of workers employed on the reservoir.

Reference was made to the old Town of Olive Telephone Co., many of whose wires were in the reservoir district. McMullin was one of the stockholders. Through the telephone he said, connection was had with Kingston over the Citizens' Standard system. When the city of New York made the telephone company an offer, the stockholders met to decide whether to divide the money or rebuild the system. McMullin was one of the majority for dissolution and received $66. He had paid altogether into the company for rent of 'phone and in assessments about $50.

The Boarding House Business.

Witness told of the extensive boarding house interests which formerly existed at Broadhead and vicinity. There were Wilbur's house and cottages, with accommodations for 100 persons; the Homer at Mount View, the Laurel and Mrs. Jacob Reesman's place at Olive Bridge, and the Bishop Brothers' place farther down. There were "ever so many" boarding houses around West Shokan.

McMullin said his boarders made use of Egeus creek. They were sent also to visit Bishop's Falls and other points of interest in the vicinity.

Something About the Profits.

That the summer boarding business is very profitable was indicated by the testimony of the claimant, who presented figures to prove it. Books were presented showing gross receipts from boarders from 1903 to 1911 inclusive of $3,364. There were no books to show expenses, but these were estimated by the claimant.

"What was the cost of food a week per boarder, counting in the market price of supplies furnished from your farm as well as the supplies you purchased in stores?" asked Attorney Slosson.

"Two dollars and fifty cents a week," replied McMullin.

"I'd like to do it," commented Mr. Speer, on the side. Incidentally he added: "Outside of the rent, Kingston is a more expensive place to live in than New York."

McMullin said the keeping of boarders did not interfere with the work on the farm. He said his wife, daughter and himself did all the work in connection with the boarding of the summer guests. His part of the work chiefly was to drive to and from the station, go after the mail, keep books and see that the boarders were happy and contented. His wife and daughter attended to the housework. This was McMullin's estimate of the value of services per week: Wife, $5; daughter, $3; "my own," $20.

Why He Gave It Up.

McMullin said he had to give up the boarding house business in 1911 because boarders would not come. Some of the 1910 guests said conditions were not desirable. Other boarding houses had been demolished and the gay parties of the time before reservoir work was advanced were no more. Besides, many of claimant's boarders were Catholics and the church in Ashokan which they attended was demolished. Now and then a letter would come from an intending guest asking for particulars; and when McMullin replied, telling how far he is located from a railroad station, there was nothing doing. "I was truthful in my replies," he said. Boarders are clamorous, he continued; they want to be where there are others. Two or three neighbors, including Watson Bishop and Mr. Berger, are the only ones who lately have been keeping boarders, and the number of guests is very limited.

Conducting the Cross-Examination.

Mr. Speer tried to prove through the witness that the McMullin place still is attractively situated. It has a thousand foot frontage on the new road and there is a view of the reservoir, but McMullin said the view is getting less every year because of the growth of brush.

Recent Sales of Realty.

Questioned about real estate sales, McMullin said he had given his son-in-law and daughter one and a tenth acres, had sold three-quarters of an acre for $125 and had sold Lorenzo Giles a lot for $75. An adjoining place of 25 acres, with house, barn and outbuildings, referred to as Mrs. Myron Teller's tea room, brought $2,500.

An Item of Expense.

One of the items of expense to be charged up to a boarding house business, even when a family home is used, is an "occupancy" charge. Chairman Gibson remarked that "when a man owns property and conducts a business, he must charge interest on the investment." Then Commissioner Elting and Attorney Speer got into an argument. Mr. Elting said there should be a proportionate charge for the use of the McMullin house by boarders 10 of the 52 weeks of the year. Mr. Speer replied "Not at all," that there is an extra value for the use of the house by boarders, compared with the value when the family is alone.

McMullin said all the profits from the boarding business he deposited in the Kingston Savings Bank in the name of his wife.

CATSKILL WATER REACHES KENSICO

Gates of Ashokan Dam Lifted Saturday Afternoon and Water Travels the Seventy-five Miles to Lower Westchester County in Twenty-three Hours.

Water is now flowing into the Great Kensico reservoir, at Valhalla, Westchester county, through the aqueduct of New York city from the Ashokan reservoir in the Catskill Mountains. The gates of the Ashokan dam were lifted at 1 o'clock last Saturday afternoon and the water traveled the 75 miles to the Kensico reservoir in twenty-three hours.

The aqueduct cost $130,000,000 and the Kensico reservoir cost $10,000,000. The latter holds 40,000,000 gallons of water. It will take more than three months to fill it, as water from the aqueduct is flowing into it at the rate of 300,000,000 gallons a day.

Water from the Kensico reservoir will flow through the aqueduct to the Hill View reservoir at Yonkers and thence on to Manhattan, where it will be distributed to the consumers. The Catskill water will be ready for use in Manhattan by January or February, the big contract being completed months ahead of time.

Not a flaw has been found in the aqueduct. At Storm King Mountain, below Newburgh, the water is carried under the Hudson river in a tunnel at a depth of 200 feet. It took weeks to complete the soundings for bed rock through which to tunnel. The water as it comes under the river is carried by siphon over a mountain and thence runs by gravity twenty miles to the Kensico reservoir.

Boys' Conference Delegates.

The delegates from this vicinity who will attend the Rochester conference for older boys are requested to meet at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock, prepared to leave on the 10:22 o'clock train that evening for Rochester.

Our Useful Police.

As a young man was driving a runabout down Broadway on Tuesday evening, the motor stalled near a street intersection. A policeman, who was standing on the corner accommodatingly stepped out and cranked the machine for the driver.

Burglars in Hudson.

Burglars entered the house of Tremain McKinstry in Hudson on Saturday night by breaking a window pane and reaching in and fastening the catch. Little or no booty was taken.

DRUNKEN FATHER NEGLECTED FAMILY

Case of Heer Proves Necessity of Work Being Done by Miss Betz and Miss Bruyn in Caring for Abused Children.

George O. Heer, a painter residing at No. 166 Washington avenue, was arrested on Tuesday evening on a warrant sworn out by Miss Lydia Betz, the trained nurse who is making a tuberculosis survey of Ulster county, charging him with not providing for the support of his four small children. From the facts as brought out the case is a sad one. Heer and his family came here a short time ago and with the assistance of his father-in-law and his wife resided. The wife for the past two years has been afflicted with tuberculosis and is now in the last stages of the disease. Heer refused to allow his wife to be removed to the tuberculosis hospital until he was threatened with arrest, when he consented and his wife was removed there on Monday.

An investigation of the case was made by Miss Betz and she found that Heer has not been working for the past three months and in fact has been drunk for the greater part of the time. She claimed that the children had been neglected and had not been provided with sufficient food by the father.

Heer claimed this morning when arraigned before Recorder Lang that he had expected to take his four children to his relatives but had been arrested before he could do so. He acknowledged that he had not worked in some time, but said that was due to the fact that he had been forced to wait on his wife as he could not find any woman willing to take care of her. He denied that he was drunk the greater part of the last three months but said he was afflicted with sorrow over his wife's serious illness. His sorrow seems to have afflicted him strangely for he was so nervous that he had to grasp hold of the bars of justice and even then his limbs, body and hands shook as though he had the palsy.

Recorder Lang informed him that a few days in the county jail would give him a chance to get the alcohol out of his system. The sentence of the court was that he furnish a bond of $200 to pay $6 a week toward the support of the children and if the bond was not furnished that he be committed to the county jail for sixty days.

Miss Gertrude Bruyn, the county agent, informed the recorder that she would endeavor to provide temporary homes for the children. In the meantime she will get in touch with Heer's relatives to ascertain what they are willing to do in regard to taking care of the children.

Sleighing Last Thanksgiving.

Superintendent George Deyo of the Eastern New York Reformatory, Nanapanoch, who is a member of Business Damage Commission No. 4 which is sitting in the court house this week, remarked Tuesday that a year ago that was a considerable quantity of snow on the ground. His son came home from college for Thanksgiving, bringing three friends. One of them a southerner, never had enjoyed a sleigh ride, and the superintendent had him taken on such a ride on Thanksgiving Day.

Payton Company Next Week.

The well known Payton Stock Company will be the attraction at the Kingston opera house all next week, presenting a fine line of good plays at popular prices. The engagement will be opened on Monday afternoon with "The Lion and the Mouse," and on Tuesday "Kick In" will be presented. Matinees will be given daily starting on Monday. This will be the first time in many years that this stock company has been seen in Kingston.

ROSCOE IRWIN IS GUEST OF STAFF

Internal Revenue Force Gave Testimonial Dinner to the "Big Chief" in Albany on Tuesday Evening.

Collector of Internal Revenue Roscoe Irwin, ex-mayor of Kingston and Democratic leader of Ulster county, was given a complimentary dinner Tuesday night at Keeler's in Albany by the members of his staff of the Fourteenth district. Collector Irwin was toasted and "roasted" by his associates and the affair was a most pleasant one.

Arthur J. Rose was toastmaster. The address of welcome, "When Mayor Greets Mayor," was by former Mayor Joseph J. Hogan of Troy, and the response, "The Best Ever," was by Collector Irwin. Others who responded to informal toasts were John H. Hawes, Thomas J. Kennedy, George Best, Peter J. Huberty, H. McC. Potter, Fred J. Lane, Frank Naumik, Charles J. Michaud and Michael J. Rafferty.

There was music by Zita's orchestra and the cabaret performers showed their talent.

The dinner brought together for the first time Collector Irwin's staff. It was the first time that the complete staff was assembled with their chief at the head. Chief Deputy Thomas J. Kennedy was chairman of the committee of arrangements and the banquets were: Collector Irwin, Deputy Kennedy, Thomas B. Sherman, Fred J. Lane, M. D. Rafferty, James Murray, Max Kaplan, William J. Garry, George Best, John Lavin, Frank Naumik, John H. Hawes, Philip Gillen, Peter J. Huberty, Geo. Frank, James Guider, H. McC. Potter, Charles J. Michaud, James H. Darrow, James P. Hussey, W. S. Van Loan, Thomas H. Pendell, Arthur Sanders, William McMahon, John Gilligan, William T. Doty, George A. Miles, Thomas E. Leahy and Joseph J. Hogan.

MEDALS AND HATS FOR ANAWANA BOYS

The reunion of the Y. M. C. A. Camp Anawana campers held on Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. was a decided success and was attended by thirty-five of the campers who were present dressed in their camp clothes, having been solemnly warned that if they appeared dressed up they would be thrown into the swimming pool. F. G. Randall and son, Elmer, of Flushing, L. I., were the guests of honor. Promptly at 8:10 o'clock the camp mess, prepared by the camp cook, "Gus" Bonesteele was served and after the good things had been tucked away under the vests of the campers a camp fire was held and old friendships renewed and camp songs sung.

During the evening the medals won by the campers were awarded. The highest honor was awarded Edwin Kirchner who was awarded a handsome silver loving cup donated by Mr. Randall. Kirchner during his stay at the summer camp had earned 589 points. The best all around camper was Roger Martin and he was awarded a small bronze loving cup, and to Edward Horton, who earned the second highest number of points was given a scout hiker, also presented by Mr. Randall.

To earn a medal or a camp hat a camper had to secure at least 375 points. The ones who were given medals were: Edwin Kirchner, Wesley Thompson, Arthur Thompson, Raymond Smith, Merwin Garrison, Prentiss Gallup, Henry Huestis, Edward Horton, George Wood, Tom Rowland, Roger Martin, Harry Connelly, Charles Beers, John Demler, and John Krom of Saugerties.

Those awarded a camp hat were: William Kemble, Jack Kemble, Earl Carpenter, Eric Brown, Walter Bonesteele, Robert Snyder of Saugerties, and Elmer Randall of Flushing.

The following earned small pennants: Elliott Rokers, Sherman Horton, Fred Schoonmaker and Fred Port.

An emblem was awarded to Felix Katz.

The reunion broke up at a late hour after a most enjoyable evening for those who had charge of the affair. CHARLES LEE MAY BE INSANE AGAIN

Charles Lee was brought to the county jail from Highland on Tuesday night by Constable Smith to spend two days as the guest of Sheriff Shultis, under a commitment of Justice of the Peace DuBois. The charge against him was disorderly conduct. Lee got into a quarrel and acted in a strange manner. The Highland village authorities could not tell whether he had been drinking or is "off" mentally, so they decided to place him in jail for observation for a short time. It is said Lee previously was an inmate of the Hudson River State Hospital, Poughkeepsie, and it is thought possible there has been a recurrence of his mental trouble. His home is in the Bridge City.

CHURCH SERVICES THANKSGIVING DAY

The annual Thanksgiving union service of the uptown churches will be held on Thursday morning at the First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf street, at 10:30 o'clock. The churches which will unite in the service are the First Dutch, St. James' Methodist, Fair Street Reformed, Albany Avenue Baptist, Reformed Church of the Comforter, Clinton Avenue Methodist and First Presbyterian.

The Thanksgiving sermon will be preached by the Rev. W. F. Stowe, pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter. The pastors of all the churches mentioned will be present and participate in the service. The choir will be led by Ford Hummel, organist and choirmaster of the Presbyterian Church, who also will be violin accompanist. The offering as usual will be for the Industrial Home.

Downtown the Presbyterians, the Methodists and the Baptists will unite and hold a special service in the Rondout Presbyterian Church, the sermon being preached by the Rev. George E. Barber of Trinity M. E. Church. The Lutheran Church of the Redeemer and the Livingston Street Lutheran Church will also hold special services that morning.

The Thanksgiving service at the Spring Street German Lutheran Church will be held tomorrow evening at 7:30. The subject of the sermon will be "Praise Ye the Lord." Special organ and choir music will be rendered. The offering will be for the Industrial Home.

In St. John's Church there will be a service of Thanksgiving on Thursday at 10:30 a. m. This day has been set apart by the President of the United States as a memorial of Thanksgiving to God for the blessings received from His hand. Order of service:

TUBERCULOSIS TALK TO PARISH SCHOOL

This morning Fred R. Avery gave a little talk to the children of St. Mary's parish, on tuberculosis and Red Cross Christmas seals. He told them that the doctors call this disease tuberculosis, while it is more commonly known as consumption. He pointed out that of the many ways in which people die one death in every seven is caused by consumption. "The sad thing is," he said, "that all these deaths are taking place while they could be stopped if people only knew. . . . Little tiny germs get into the lungs. These are such tiny things that you could have ten thousand on your fingers and not know there was anything there. . . . They keep eating up the lungs until the lungs are all gone."

Mr. Avery explained that as long as we keep well, we will not get consumption. He told these children that one of the chief things to do to keep well is to have plenty of fresh air; that at night they always want to have a window open in the room in which they are sleeping. He cautioned them against neglecting colds, since consumption often follows in the wake of a neglected cold.

It was made clear that the way in which tuberculosis germs spread about is by being coughed up by people who have consumption, and they are carried by dust, by flies and by various other means. If people who are afflicted with this disease only knew about being careful, they would not give it to others.

Mr. Avery told these boys and girls that he knew they would be willing to risk their own lives to save someone from drowning and then pointed out that they had the opportunity to help save the lives of many boys and girls and grown people in Ulster county from death many times worse than drowning. He explained that by selling these Red Cross Christmas Seals at a penny apiece, they could do their share in the local fight against consumption. He added that he knew the boys and girls selling the largest numbers of these seals would be proud to have their names published in the papers as having done so much to save the lives of others.

The hearty support which the schools throughout the county are giving to this movement will assist materially in making this 1915 campaign a success. Both the public and parochial schools are lending their aid to this work. The boys and girls will not only sell a large number of seals which otherwise would not be sold, but they will also become imbued with the methods of right living and a desire to do all in their power to prevent suffering and pass these on to others.

Highland Chauffeur in Contempt.

At a special term of supreme court in Newburgh on Saturday, Justice Hirschberg presiding, Charles H. Baumes, as attorney for Jennie H. Owens, asked that her husband, William Owens, from whom she had obtained a separation with $5 a week allowance, be declared in contempt and an order granted directing him to show cause why he should not be imprisoned for failing to pay $100 due as alimony and $25 counsel fees. The order was granted. Harold Lent appeared for the defendant. Owens is a chauffeur earning from $12 to $15 a week at Highland. Mr. Lent says Owens is not working now. Mrs. Owens has a baby one year old to support.

SEEKS TO EXPEDITE DAMAGE HEARINGS

Attorney Speer For City of New York Has "Zone" Idea in Mind—Proposed That Facts, Rehearsed in Every Case, Be Submitted By Stipulation—City Against Samsom's Awards.

Attorney William McM. Speer, representing the city of New York in the indirect damage claims instituted by property owners in connection with the building of the Ashokan reservoir, is making an effort to expedite the hearings being held before Commission No. 4, consisting of Chairman William H. Gibson, Philip Elting and George Deyo. He made announcement of the fact, and outlined the plan he had been working on, during the hearing in the McMahon case on Tuesday afternoon. The hearings are lengthy because so much testimony as to distances, contours, changes, location of stores, railroad stations and churches before and after the beginning of reservoir work, and identity of persons and things has to be gone over in each case. The testimony referred to has to do largely with matters of fact.

Mr. Speer said his idea is to present cases by zones and he has talked the matter over with Senator Walton. There are a number of cases around Palen's of Samsomville, whose claim has been under consideration this week. The Schlumberger and other claims bear a certain proportionate relation.

Chairman Gibson—"Seventy-five per cent of the testimony in each of these cases is identical. You could write it up and agree to it. We are threshing stuff over and over."

Commissioner Elting—"Why couldn't a statement of facts as to location of roads, stations, highways, stores, etc., before and after the city's acts be gotten out in type-written form and submitted each time?"

Chairman Gibson—"The expert witnesses—we know what they swear to. Put that in too."

Attorney Speer—"We cannot regard these claims as isolated propositions. Some are entitled to consideration and others are not. We have told the attorneys what the city is willing to do and what it is not willing to do."

Reference was made to the Marlborough road claimants as being in one of the proposed zones and to the West Ashokan neighborhood claimants as being in another.

Draw Line at Samsomville.

Attorney Speer declared flatly that the city refuses to settle with claimants in the Samsomville district, which he said is located too far from the reservoir.

Under the proposed plan, as Mr. Speer further explained it, if the commission should decide against indirect damages, after hearing the claim of one property owner in the Samsomville zone, other claimants in the zone would be shown to have no ground for damages. On the other hand, if one Marlborough claimant should be given an award, other Marlborough claimants would be shown to have basis for awards.

Harrison T. Slosson, attorney for James McMillin, whose claim was being heard at the time, said: "The difficulty about a stipulation is this. We find our measurements of distances different from the city's. We take actual measurements, while the city takes a map and estimates the distance by scale. There are differences of one, two, three and more miles."

It was said by attaches of the Board of Water Supply office that the city's engineers took distances by tape lines. All roads submerged in the reservoir were measured down to a foot.

Attorney Speer suggested a probable reason for discrepancies when he said "We give distances over the new road, which is not completed yet."

Mr. Slosson said he would object to the admission of any and all city maps, as he had "got stuck once by them."

The discussion ended without anything being agreed on.

DAIRY and CREAMERY

FEED FOR DAIRY COWS.

Grain Sprinkled Over Silage Keeps Cattle From Gorging.

It seldom pays to cut hay fine for dairy cattle. Food that the cow consumes stays in the paunch a sufficient length of time to become softened and is churned about until it reaches a semiliquid state before passing on through the stomach, writes a correspondent of the Country Gentleman. For this reason cutting the fodder before feeding is unnecessary. For horses that are working very hard it is sometimes advisable to chop the hay, but it should then be moistened to prevent danger of heaves.

Grain may be sprinkled over silage to good advantage. This keeps cows from gorging the feed and also prevents any likelihood of impaction in the stomach due to too much heavy feed being given at one time. It is not advisable to feed grain in the form of slop to dairy cattle, the added returns being practically nothing and the labor involved more than offsetting any saving. If one gives the cattle access to plenty of salt there will be no question of their drinking all the water they need. Many mix salt with the feed, but when this is done some cows may get more and others less than is desirable. A far better way is to feed it in a clean manger, so one can tell whether or not the cow cleans it up. Still better, it may be placed in a box protected from storm and left near the watering trough. The cattle soon find this and eat all they desire.

With grains high priced it behooves every feeder to study the feed control bulletin put out by his experiment station in order to ascertain the true value of the various feeding stuffs on the market.

BARLEY FOR DAIRY COWS.

Fed in Conjunction With Alfalfa It Increased Flow of Milk.

Professors True, Wolf and Voorhees of the California experiment station conducted short experiments to determine the value of barley as a supplementary feed to alfalfa, which are reported in Bulletin 256. The results of the tests with barley and alfalfa show that in every instance barley increased the milk flow. In one instance as high as 12 per cent increase was obtained, and in another 16 per cent. In only one instance did the barley return a direct profit—that is, on the milk produced.

The bulletin well states that the profit or loss in the feeding of barley cannot be wholly estimated upon the direct returns of increased milk flow, for feeding the cow early in her period of lactation often puts her in condition for milking a longer period and sustaining a higher milk flow, says Board's Dairyman. It would seem from what we gather from this bulletin that the farmer who uses alfalfa to feed his dairy cows some barley, as it not only keeps them in better physical condition, but without question will produce better offspring.

Dutch Belted cattle originated in Holland more than 200 years ago and were introduced into the United States about 1850. In general adaptation they are very similar to the Holstein, but are of smaller size. They are a distinctly dairy breed, but the public records made have not equaled those of the Holstein. The most notable characteristic of the breed is the white belt that encircles the body of the animal, which otherwise is black. The bull shown is a Dutch Belted.

Barley was fed at the rate of one pound for every five pounds of milk produced, and the cows were given a very liberal allowance of alfalfa hay, almost more, it would seem, than they could consume to advantage.

The conclusion of the bulletin is as follows: "The results of the two experiments with feeding barley to cows on alfalfa reported in this bulletin show that an immediate increase in production will be secured as a result of the grain feeding, but that this increase will not, as a rule, pay for the extra cost of the ration. On account of the increased production obtained and the residual effect of the grain feeding, as well as its favorable influence on the condition of the cows and their offspring, it may be concluded, however, that the practice of feeding grain to cows on alfalfa is economically sound and may be recommended. This holds true, especially for heifers and young cows as well as for heavy producing animals which cannot be brought to a maximum production on roughage only even if this be as excellent and palatable a feed as green alfalfa or good alfalfa hay."

Time to Breed Heifers. A heifer should be bred so that she will calve when two years old. She should be well developed by good feeding and care prior to breeding. If a heifer is allowed to go twenty months or more unborn she may prove a shy breeder.

Concentrated Wisdom. "Will your boy go to college?" "I don't believe he'll need to," replied Mr. Elting. "If he ever learns the answers to all the questions he asks, he will know more than the professors."

BOY BECAME FORGER TO BUY CIGARETTES

Daniel Schoonmaker, 14 years old, of No. 25 Wilbur avenue, who was arrested on Tuesday afternoon for securing groceries on a forged order at the store of Charles G. Ewel, No. 59 Cedar street, has evolved a dangerous scheme for securing money to purchase cigarettes, it was brought out this morning when he was arraigned before Recorder Lang in children's court. It seems that Daniel has been working in one of the local factories until about three weeks ago. He is a cigarette smoker and when he lost his job he also lost the means of securing money to satisfy his cravings. During this time his mother has given him money to go to A. D. Rose's grocery store on Franklin street to purchase groceries, but the boy instead would pocket the money given him and knowing that a neighbor, Mrs. Robb, was in the habit of getting her groceries at Ewel's store the boy would forge an order for the groceries his mother wanted and signing Mrs. Robb's name to it would present it at the Ewel store and secure the groceries. He did this twice without detection, but the third time proved disastrous to him and he was caught and arrested. It was learned that the total amount of the three forged orders was $1.75. Recorder Lang sentenced the boy to Randall's Island, but suspended sentence pending good behavior. The boy has secured a job and will pay back to Mr. Ewel the amount of money he had obtained in groceries and this morning he signed the pledge to abstain from using cigarettes for six months. Mr. Ewel was satisfied not to press the charge against the boy on his agreement to pay back the money.

Whooping Cough in Home.

A case of whooping cough has developed in one of the children in the Industrial Home and it was promptly reported to the board of health this morning when Dr. Harold Clarke made an investigation and found that every effort is being used to prevent the spread of the disease among the other children in the institution and that the case has been isolated. Dr. Clarke is of the opinion that the child contracted the disease while attending school. The children who attend school will be kept out of school for the next two weeks. Although the children in the institution will not be able to go out on Thanksgiving Day, still they will enjoy themselves as they will sit down to a turkey dinner with all the fixings, as friends of the children have not forgotten that "kids" certainly do enjoy turkey.

Navigation Notes.

The Central Hudson line will celebrate Thanksgiving Day and there will be no boats running on Thursday on the Albany-Newburgh line or no boat from this city to New York, but the boats of the line will resume running on Friday.

Owing to the large amount of towing work in New York harbor, the Cornell Steamboat Company has placed the tug knickerbocker in commission and the tug will do harbor work and towing in the lower river. The tug was tied up at the Cornell dock in the creek all summer. The tug Baker is bound down the river with a tow of over fifty boats while the Washburn is bound up with a large tow.

Transfer of Insane Patients.

A melancholy procession will enter Poughkeepsie on Saturday when three carloads of patients will be transferred from the Long Island to the Hudson River State hospital. They will come by way of the West Shore railroad and will be met by nurses and attendants at the hospital at Highland and escorted to the Bridge City institution. There will be 75 women and 25 men in the group, all of whom are at present inmates of the Central Islip State Hospital. The transfer is due to the crowded condition of the hospital on Long Island.

A Home for Three Months.

James Terrell, an old offender, was arrested on Tuesday evening by Jailer Seth Jocelyn on Wall street on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. This morning Terrell pleaded guilty and said that he had no home. He was furnished a home for three months by Recorder Lang, who sentenced him to three months in the county jail.

NO BAN OF LAW ON KEEPING OF RIFLE

It was stated in the district attorney's office today that the reported fear of the Rosenbush family of Spring Glen, town of Wawarsing, that they would be prosecuted for having a rifle in the house "without a permit or license" was unfounded. The law against the keeping or carrying of fire arms without a permit relates only to "concealed weapons," such as a revolver or pistol. As heretofore stated in The Freeman, three-year-old Rosie Rosenbush accidentally was shot and killed by her 11-year-old brother on Sunday morning. The family at first told a fanciful tale of a stray bullet having entered a window and struck the child. Under questioning by District Attorney Cunningham and Chief of Police Froer of Ellenville, the family confessed to the truth, saying the reason for the deception was fear the boy would be jailed and the family prosecuted for keeping a gun.

For Tuberculosis Patients.

One of the things most needed at the Tuberculosis Hospital, is the means of giving to the shut-ins there some form of entertainment and cheerfulness from the outside world, to help in the curative work being carried on at this institution. In order to avail themselves of kindly offers of different people to give such entertainment of music, little plays, etc., it was found necessary by those interested in this side of the work to have a piano, and some few other accessories for such performances. There has been at the hospital since last Christmas, an excellent piano, which has been kept in tune, and which has afforded far more happiness and relief as an aid to other good things than will ever be realized by those who do not visit the hospital. But the piano is not paid for, and there are a few other needs. Knowing of this, the artists who recently gave such a fine recital at Holy Cross Church, organist Norman Taylor, Mrs. Coerr, Miss Marchant and Ford Hummel, have most generously consented to repeat the evening's program, with a few changes, for the benefit of this excellent cause. The use of the church for this charity will also be given, so that all proceeds will go for the desired end. A silver collection will be taken up, so that there will be no selling of tickets. All who heard the recital before will want to hear it again, and many who were unable then to attend because of other attractions that night, will be glad of the opportunity to hear the fine program. Furthermore many who are interested in the Tuberculosis Hospital and its patients, will be glad of this opportunity, to aid in making for more happiness in the lives of those afflicted by the white plague. The date will probably be Tuesday evening, December 7, but that will be announced later.

Brewery Workmen's Ball.

The fourteenth annual ball to be held under the auspices of the United Brewery Workmen's Association, Local No. 63, will take place at Washington Hall this evening. The members of the association have sold a large number of tickets, and as this organization is very popular in this city, a large crowd will no doubt be present. The dance will run into the wee small hours of the morning, the music having been engaged to play until 6 a. m. The music will be furnished by McLean's full orchestra of Kingston. The committee, under whose charge the affair will take place, is composed of David Heener, chairman; Henry Werner, secretary; Benjamin Bietz, treasurer; Frederick Dittus and Edward Breitenbacher. A good time is assured to all who are in attendance.

Shoes Needed For Little Feet.

Mrs. W. Scott Gillespie of the Sunshiny Society asks for shoes for little folk, as there are a number of small children in families looked after by the Sunshiny Society, in real need of this help. The shoes needed are for boys and girls, ages 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10 years, and Mrs. Gillespie will be glad to hear from any friends who give this assistance before the weather becomes colder.

"My ancestors," naughty little Heloise Aldyne told her nine-year-old playmate Hermione McGuire, "came over before yours did. They came over in the first boat, the Mayflower." "Well, mine came over," Hermione said stoutly, her blue Irish eyes flashing with spirit, "in the very next boat, the Juneflower."—Judge.

"All Except the Fish"

Jules B. Schloss in Newspaper-don tells the story of the dorky who "was getting all the pleasure of fishing except the fish."

Some advertisers enjoy all the expense of advertising without the profits.

They do not fish where the fish are.

The shrewd advertiser finds out where the best market are located and uses newspaper advertising to land the game.

He advertises for definite customers in the most efficient way and his bookkeepers do not have to use red ink for balances.

Manufacturers interested in increasing the efficiency of their advertising are invited to address the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers' Association, World Building, New York.

THE FIRST LAW

Self-preservation is the first law of nature and for this reason people, and nations have, since the beginning of the world, sought every means of protection possible.

Now, while this principle applies to life it is also applicable to business existence and, right in this connection, the Freeman Want Ads are the great protectors of the individual business man and woman.

The Freeman Wants protect against lack of a job, against getting into a groove from which escape seems hopeless, against employment interest and against loss of hope for better things.

It is, therefore, a paying proposition to use the Freeman Want Ads.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, Nov. 24.—Rev. John Appel of Gardiner preached in the Reformed Church of this place on Sunday last, both morning and evening.

Rev. E. E. Connt preached in the M. E. Church in the absence of the regular pastor, Rev. W. H. Moser, who was suffering from a cold. Mr. Moser was able to conduct the evening service.

The ladies of St. John's Episcopal Church held a social tea on Monday afternoon which was a very successful affair.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church gave a progressive euchre and dance at Norbury Hall on Tuesday evening for the benefit of the church.

Rev. Father Dougherty, rector of St. Mary's Church has recently purchased a new Chevrolet car, of our local firm, Wells & Thornton.

Miss Ethel Lawrence of Middletown was a pleasant caller in our village on Saturday last. She was accompanied by her cousin, Miss Thornton of Spring Glen and came to visit the sister of the latter, Miss Lillie Thornton, who is convalescing from an operation at Topping's Sanatorium in this place.

The Ellenville High School seniors gave a dance to the juniors and freshmen on Friday of last week. The affair was a great success and after the dancing light refreshments were served.

Mrs. James McCarthy of Brooklyn, whose husband died about a week ago, is spending some time in this vicinity and with Mrs. Thomas Parker of the Cape visited Mrs. William Dugan on Monday.

Mrs. George McCloud died at her home in Greenfield on Friday morning last. She was a daughter of Ephraim Holmes and had spent the greater part of her life at Greenfield. The funeral was held on Monday, with interment in Fantielkill cemetery at Ellenville.

The World's Republics.

There are twenty-four republics in the world, including the republics and so-called republics of Mexico, the Central American states, South American states, Andorra in the Pyrenees mountains, San Marino in the Apennines and Liberia in Africa as well as such republics as the United States, France and Switzerland. The oldest republic in the world is San Marino, in Italy, on the coast of the Adriatic, next to Monaco, the smallest state in Europe. It is supposed to have been founded in the fourth century.

Widows' Caps.

Who do widows wear caps? This is one of the things that every woman does not know. It is not because caps make them look pretty and interesting. It is because when the Romans were in England they introduced the custom of shaving the head as a sign of mourning. Of course women couldn't let themselves be seen with bald heads, so they made themselves caps.

So, though the hideous custom has passed, the caps remain.—London Answers.

CRAWFORD SHOESKNICKERBOCKER HATS*SAM BERNSTEIN & CO.*ARROW SHIRTS*Dynamite.

The action of dynamite is comparatively precise. The firing point is 180 degrees C. At that temperature it either burns or explodes. If free from all pressure, jar, vibration or force of any kind it merely burns. That is how it comes about that one can burn dynamite safely in the hand if all conditions be wholly favorable. But any least vibration from such requisites will cause an explosion, which is an excellent reason for avoiding too intimate ventures with the compound.

Estimating a Crowd.

Did you ever try to estimate the number of people in an audience or in a street throng? If you did the chances are that you came no nearer to the truth than did the man who bet there were a billion beans in a bushel. The theaters seem commendable, and they are all that is needed in some respect, but there is probably not one person in twenty who, if he did not know the number of seats, could guess within 100 of the actual capacity.—Columbus Dispatch.

Story of the Prodigal Son.

The story of the prodigal son is more than a parable. It is based on a law set forth on a Babylonian tablet 2,000 years before the time of Christ. A Yale professor has translated the Sumerian characters in which the laws on the tablet—the earliest known—are written. The fourth law provides that a son who desires to leave his father's house and to set forth on a career of his own shall receive his portion of the estate and henceforth be legally separated from his family.—Youth's Companion.

How Cripple Creek Got Its Name.

It was the cattleman who gave Cripple Creek its name. There are a dozen traditions, but the best authenticated is the story of a cowboy whose bronco balked at the jumping of a rivulet, balked and stumbled and fell, breaking a leg for itself and one for its rider. There was no surgeon nearer than Colorado Springs, and the rough anatomical carpentry of his mates made a cripple for life of the unlucky range rider, wherefore he named the rivulet Cripple Creek, and the rivulet named the region.—Exchange.

HELPFULNESS.

Try to lend a helping hand. As ships meet at sea a moment together, when words of greeting must be spoken, and then away into the deep, so men meet in this world. And I think we should cross no man's path without hailing him and, if he needs, giving him supplies.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Edgar Palen Claims Under Consideration Again—Export Barham on Stand—Wrangle Over Clerical Error in Papers Resumed by Attorneys.

Business Damage Commission No. 4, consisting of W. H. Gibson, Philip Elting and George Deyo, which had been in session in the court house since Monday noon, took an adjournment today noon until Monday, Dec. 6, when the hearing of the claim of former Supervisor James McMillin, which began Tuesday afternoon, will be concluded.

The time of the commission this forenoon was occupied in hearing further testimony on the claim of Edgar Palen of Samsonville. The hearing of this case, which occupied Monday afternoon and Tuesday forenoon, was adjourned until today, to permit the beginning of the McMillin hearing. Edwin Burhans, an expert on water power, real estate and timber, followed Charles L. Davis, another expert for the plaintiff, on the stand Tuesday and resumed his testimony today. Palen seeks $3,000 indirect damages and $3,000 damages for wood, produce, etc., as a result of the construction of the Ashokan reservoir.

Mr. Burhans said Palen's 400-acre farm has decreased in value from $8,900 to $5,935, because of loss of mills, market, etc., the changing of highways and the relocation of the Ulster & Delaware's tracks and the abandonment of the Broadhead station.

Witness told at length of the boarding houses formerly located in the reservoir region and the number of their summer guests.

Attorney William McM. Speer, for the city of New York, asked what all this had to do with the Samsonville man's claims.

Attorney A. A. Brown, for the claimant, said that thousands of people, in addition to the permanent population, spent the summer in the locality, and it was there Palen had his market and did his business.

Mr. Speer—"You might as well show how many people live in Kingston."

Asked to estimate the summer guests who used to be in the reservoir section, Mr. Burhans said about 1,500.

Before the tracks of the U. & D. were relocated, he said, there were three trains up and three down daily, and now there are only two each way.

Witness told of having sold hard wood on the stump at Bushkill and elsewhere for $5, $8 and $8 a thousand feet. He said that in driving a horse to Samsonville he always took the mountain road because the boulevard is too slippery.

Wrangle Over Clerical Error

At the opening of the hearing today Attorney Speer placed Alex Morris, a clerk and stenographer in the office of the board of water supply, to testify regarding copies of the Palen claim. On Monday Attorney Brown charged that Palen's acreage was reduced in his papers by the board of water supply from 400 to 40. He asserted the original claim he filed and the letter which accompanied it placed the acreage at 400. Attorney Speer denied warmly the accusation that the papers had been tampered with.

Morris testified regarding the procedure in regard to claims. After claims are received by the secretary of the board, copies are furnished the corporation counsel and the bureau of claims in New York city. Morris produced three copies of the Palen claim which Attorney Speer offered in evidence. Attorney Brown objected, saying all of them were erroneous. "The '400' was changed to '40,' just as I said," declared Mr. Brown. Morris said the different copies came into his hands at one time and all stated the acreage as 40.

It appeared that someone in making a copy had committed a clerical error and subsequent copies repeated the error. "It was an innocent act in any event," remarked Chairman Gibson.

Some representative of the city of New York tried to rob this claimant of damages on 360 acres," persisted Mr. Brown.

The attorneys continued to wrangle each refusing to take the blame for the clerical error in his office, and the incident closed with laughter, in which counsel, commission and spectators joined.

Draper Case Argued

The appellate division on Tuesday heard arguments on the second application of Harold D. Alexander, district attorney of Albany, to permit him to take an appeal from the judgment of the court reversing the conviction of Clifton C. Draper on the charge of attempting to induce two Kingston girls, Anna Leuffgen and Grace Decker, to lead immoral lives. Charles B. Templeton appeared for Draper in opposition to the application and briefs will be submitted. The court denied the first motion of the district attorney at the September term in which it held the testimony of the girls was conflicting and unsatisfactory and that it should not be the basis of a certification of a question of law to the court of appeals. The conviction was reversed and the indictment dismissed after Draper had served a year of his sentence in Clinton prison. He has since been indicted on another charge made by one of the girls.

No Cabaret. That does not fit in with a Home Hotel, which The Weiner is.

But really good music for twelve hours—Mostly the old-fashioned home melodies that will stir up the healthy, stimulating sentiment in all of us.

MAYOR SUGGESTS USE FOR OLD K. A.

Grammar School, Park Civic Center and Site for Statue of General Sharpe Among the Things Suggested.

The possibilities of the future of the present Kingston Academy building are discussed in the following letter which Mayor Palmer Canfield has written to the board of education:

Kingston, N. Y., Nov. 23, 1915.

Gentlemen—I desire to suggest to you the question of the consideration of the possibilities of the Kingston Academy building. It is true that the Kingston Academy trustees will probably have the right to determine its ultimate use and purposes after it is turned over to them by your board. However, I believe that the matter should properly be given serious thought on your part because of its past use under your jurisdiction and because of present and possible future school conditions in that locality.

I am informed that No. 8 School has reached its capacity as to number in attendance, and I understand that No. 7 has nearly arrived at such point, and that No. 6 will be in a similar condition in the course of a few years. However, School No. 6 would not probably be available to any marked degree to serve the students within the school areas of No. 7 and No. 8. The latter schools must serve the First, Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth wards, which constitute about one-third of the population of the city.

I am also informed that the old part of the Kingston Academy building would require extensive repairs and renewals to place it in usable condition, but that the comparatively new part in the rear is in good condition.

Believing that every phase of every civic and municipal matter should be considered by the proper person or board, I respectfully suggest that you consider the question in the following respects, amongst others:

First—That the present school conditions in the locality be ascertained.

Second—That the additional school requirements of the near future under normal growth be estimated.

Third—That it be determined whether additional grammar school facilities will be required in such locality in the immediate future.

Fourth—If additional facilities will probably be necessary, that it then be determined whether the Kingston Academy building, or a part thereof, will lend itself to provide such additional facilities more advantageously and economically than a new grammar school or that additions if possible, to Schools No. 7 and 8.

Fifth—That the question be considered whether the academy grounds would not better serve the civic, social and recreational needs of the locality and the city with a part of the building preserved and remodeled.

I am not urging the above plan as the best possible plan, but I only suggest it as a possible plan. I further suggest that your determination and findings be sent to the Kingston Academy trustees for their information and consideration. I realize that they are men of education, ability and standing; and because they are, I know that they are big enough and broad enough to be in a receptive mood as to suggestions in relation to the use of the property in question.

I further suggest, that if it should not be desirable to retain any part of the academy building, that the Kingston Academy trustees be urged to turn over the grounds to the city for park purposes, and that all moneys received from a sale of the school building be used for the purpose of beautifying the grounds and for the erection of a suitable statue to the memory of General George Sharpe, and for something suitable to keep alive the history of Kingston Academy.

Respectfully,
PALMER CANFIELD, JR., Mayor

Postoffice Hours Thursday.

Holiday hours will be observed by the postoffice department on Thursday. There will be one delivery and one collection of mail in the morning. The stamp window in the central postoffice and the uptown and downtown branches will be open until 10 o'clock in the morning, while the lobby in all three offices will remain open until 9 o'clock that evening for the convenience of box holders.

Restaurant Man Sued.

A Middletown restaurant man has been sued by three Newburgh negroes for alleged discrimination against them because of their color. This is a violation of the law, punishable by a fine ranging from $100 to $500.

When Turkeys Were Cheap.

Twenty years has made quite a change in the price of the Thanksgiving turkey. In 1895 first quality birds were sold at from 14 to 19 cents a pound at this time of the year, and today it is necessary to pay from 30 to 32 cents a pound for a good bird.

Annual Turkey Supper.

Thanksgiving evening the ladies of the Livingston Street Lutheran Church will hold their annual turkey supper in the schoolroom of the church from 5 to 8 o'clock. All will be welcome.

Stamford Minister Leaves.

The Rev. A. J. Sadler, for the past eleven years pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Stamford, has accepted a call to become pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Newark, N. J.

PASTOR SNYDER DECLINES CALL

Membership Here Doubled and New Church Built During His Pastorate—General Satisfaction That He Decides to Remain.

The Rev. Howard E. Snyder, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer on Wurts street, has been called to become pastor of the Church of Our Saviour in Trenton, N. J., but after consultation with the officers of the congregation, Pastor Snyder has decided to remain in Kingston and has declined the call to the larger field in Trenton.

Pastor Snyder has been in charge of the local church for over eleven years and under his pastorate the membership has increased to such an extent that it is now doubled in number. The present handsome church has also been built and equipped and a number of other improvements have been made in the parish. Under his administration the church has grown to be one of the largest and most important churches in Ulster county and that fact is due in a large measure to the efficient work of Pastor Snyder.

He is a man who is beloved not only by the members of his own congregation, but by the residents at large, for his work not only as a minister of the Gospel but as a citizen. He has always taken an active interest in the welfare of the city and his influence has been felt in all walks of life.

His decision to remain in charge of the local church will be welcome news, not only to the members of his own congregation, but to the city at large, for while the future prospects in Trenton, which has 128,000 population, are brighter than in Kingston, yet Pastor Snyder's usefulness as a citizen and pastor is needed in this city.

ROAD FOREMAN FINED FOR ASSAULT

The work of building the state road from Ulster Park to the Lloyd town line resulted in an action for assault and battery being tried before Judge McKenzie in Port Jervis recently, when Jacob Stegmaier had Joseph Farinella arrested. Mr. Stegmaier purchased the Dr. Decker place at Ulster Park and has made it his home. When Dr. Decker owned the place there was an old stone wall on the street boundary line of the property, but this stone wall the doctor removed and about eight feet back a wire fence was erected and the space between the site of the stone wall and the present fence was utilized by the owner in making a sidewalk and planting trees. When the lines for the new highway were laid out they cut through this property just outside the wire fence. Workmen attempted to cut down two of the trees, but as Mr. Stegmaier had not been paid nor the land condemned by the county, he naturally objected. This was later patched up by the county paying him for the two trees. About two weeks ago the workmen attempted to cut down some more of the trees on Mr. Stegmaier's property and he again objected. This is what brought about the alleged assault. The foreman of the workmen was Farinella, and it was claimed at the trial that he told his men to go ahead and use dynamite and blow up the tree and Stegmaier with it. Stegmaier stood alongside the tree at the time. Farinella, it was claimed, then struck Stegmaier in the breast with his fist and lifted a pickaxe threateningly. That was why Stegmaier had him arrested. A trial Judge Stephan represented Stegmaier while Judge O'Reilly appeared for Farinella. Judge McKenzie at the close of the trial found Farinella guilty and fined him $10.

OFFICIALS OF THE BUTTERFLY BALL

The Butterfly Ball, of which all Kingston is talking, is given for the purpose of raising a goodly sum of money for the building fund of the Kingston City Hospital, and is to be held at the State Armory under the auspices of Company M, 10th N. Y. Infantry. The ball is under the general management of the Ladies Auxiliary of the hospital, Mrs. George Chandler, president. The floral decorations are in charge of the Ulster County Garden Club, Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, president, with Mrs. Edward Coykendall chairman of the decorating committee.

The lemonade booth will be conducted by the Daughters of Isabella, Mrs. J. William Leary, president, and Mrs. John Howley chairman of the committee.

The Monday Afternoon Sewing Club has entire charge of the butterfly. Miss Sarah Horton is the president.

Miss Anne Heaney will manage the cigar booth, which will be arranged in quite a novel manner.

The other officials of the ball are as follows:

Treasurers, Charles Tappen and Dr. A. A. Stern.

Director, Dr. George Chandler.

Electrician, Rodney B. Osterhout.

Superintendent of construction, Sergeant Edward Fitzgerald.

Distribution of tickets, Mrs. T. J. Hickey.

Publicity manager, Mrs. George Chandler.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Fuller of Clermont street, Saugerties, will celebrate their golden wedding on Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. C. Gordon Reel will be the hostess at the Twaalfskill club house Thanksgiving afternoon, where there will be a reception for the members of the club and refreshments will be served.

Flicker-Greene.

Miss Hazel L. Greene and Leonard Flicker, both of this city, were married on Saturday, November 20, by the Rev. F. B. Seeley.

Winnie-Townsend.

Seymour B. Winnie of Ashokan and Miss Veria Townsend of the Mitchell House, this city, were married on November 18, at Ashokan by the Rev. J. H. Fife. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Terwilliger.

Whittaker-Gilbert.

At the Methodist parsonage in Saugerties on Monday evening, the Rev. J. Marion Cornish performed the marriage of Alfred Whittaker of Mt. Marion and Miss Emma Gilbert of Saugerties. The attendants were Miss Margaret A. Gilbert, a sister of the bride and Lewis H. Dietz.

Ackerman-Decker.

Townsend Ackerman, trainer at the Winston farm in Saugerties and Miss Freda E. Decker, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Decker of Market street, Saugerties, were married at an early hour Thursday morning, November 18, by Recorder Laug at his residence on Hunter street. The witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Roach of this city.

McAvoy-McCarthy.

The marriage of Elizabeth G. McCarthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis McCarthy of Marlborough, and John J. McAvoy of Albany was solemnized at high noon last Sunday in the Catholic Church of Our Lady of Mercy in Roseton by the Rev. J. F. Hanley. Miss Julia McCarthy, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. The bride wore a traveling suit of brown broadcloth with fur trimmings. The groom is engaged in business in Albany.

Healey-Lane.

The marriage of Miss Mary Lane and John Healey was solemnized at the Church of the Holy Name on Monday at 10 o'clock. The bride was handsomely attired in African brown, broadcloth trimmed with fur, a large picture hat richly trimmed with plumes and carried a prayer book. The bride was attended by Miss Annie Lane, a cousin of the bride, who was gowned in silver champagne. The best man was Frederick Lane, a brother of the bride. After the ceremony they received congratulations and left for a tour north. The bride is a most estimable young lady, while the groom is a valued employee of the Herbert Brush Co. On their return a neatly furnished home awaits them. Both bride and groom have many friends who wish them a long and happy married life.

Seats for Butterfly Ball.

While there are no reserved seats for the Butterfly Ball, there will be a large number of chairs in the armory on December 9, and unless there is an unprecedented crowd there will be seats enough to give everybody a good location to see the dance program which precedes the general dancing. It is of great importance that all tickets be purchased before the night of the ball so that the management will have some idea how many seats to provide. The entertainment is of such a character that seats may be placed at either end of the armory floor eight or ten rows in a semi-circle. These will be removed before the general dancing begins. The gallery accommodates nearly 300 and the bleachers 200. The early comers will, of course, get the best seats, although every chair will command a good view of the performance.

Lowell Club.

On Tuesday afternoon the Lowell Club met with Mrs. Basten at her home on Main street. The program opened with a roll call of current events. Mrs. Fessenden had the paper for the day on "Tadpole Rule in Ireland," and an excellent paper it was. Miss Rathazar had an interesting short paper on "The O'Neils and O'Donnells," and another interesting sketch on "The Insurrection of Rory O'More" was given by Mrs. Brynn. The music for the afternoon was a Victrola selection, "As Long as the Shamrock Grows Green." It was voted that the club should spend one more afternoon making decorations for the coming Butterfly Ball, and the ladies will meet on Saturday afternoon of this week, at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Teller, for this work. Next week's club meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Brigham.

Parsells-DuBois.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill DuBois on Clinton avenue, was the scene this afternoon at half after four o'clock, of a quiet, but impressive autumnal wedding, when Miss Ida Elizabeth DuBois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DuBois, and Raymond Henry Parsells of Schenectady were married in the presence of their immediate families. The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. George M. Cranston, pastor of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, took place in the parlor which was decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums, palms, ferns and smilax and chrysanthemums being banked as a background to the bridal party. The bride was charming in a lovely gown of white crepe de chene over white silk, with trimmings of chrysanthemum lace and satin. She carried a bride's roses. Miss Helen Barber, cousin of the groom, acted as maid of honor and was very prettily gowned in white silk with rose bud trimmings. She carried pink chrysanthemums. The groom had as his best man, Jesse DuBois of Newburgh, a cousin of the bride. Fred F. DuBois, another cousin of the bride played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin as the bridal party entered the room, and Mendelssohn's wedding march at the close of the ceremony. After receiving congratulations, the guests enjoyed a fine collation, served by Mrs. Williams, who catered. Smilax and the wedding cake adorned the bridal table. During the early evening a reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Parsells, at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Charles H. Parsells, on Highland avenue, which was made festive for the happy occasion, with cut flowers, smilax, and ferns. The wedding gifts of cut glass, silver, linen, bric a brac, etc., were numerous and handsome. The bride, who has always been active as a worker in the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, has been for some time the efficient and highly appreciated Sunday school pianist and member of the Sunday school orchestra. The groom is connected with the General Electric Works at Schenectady, and following a brief wedding journey, Mr. and Mrs. Parsells will make their home in that city. There were out of town guests from Newburgh, Esopus, Ulster Park and Saugerties.

Clerks Beat Candy Makers.

The Derrenbacher's Shipping Clerks beat the Candy Makers Tuesday night in Washington Hall, score 23 to 15, but the Candy Makers took it good naturedly and said they held the Shipping Clerks down better than they thought they would, as not a man on their side ever played a basketball game before. They said it was a good thing Brown of the Shipping Clerks and an old Cornell player was not in the game they think they would have beat the Shipping Clerks. H. Derrenbacher, L. Wolf and Captain Wolf also are experienced men and outside of that they have no kick coming. The Candy Makers say they were beat fairly and squarely, but they expect to win the other two games, as they have got on to the playing and see where the weak spots are. When the game started Arthur Brew thought he was playing football, as he used to play in the U. S. Navy, but there were so many fouls called on him that he soon got wise and played a different game. The Shipping Clerks got there, starting in the first half on pass work, but the Candy Makers soon got wise, and they held them down in the second half.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

New York, Nov. 24.—The person who wants to succeed in billiards must have perfect control of the muscles in the wrist. He must have a perfect eye for measuring distance, and speed and, above all else, he never must get careless.

So says Willie Hoppe, the champion of all champions in the world—the most wonderful billiard player in the game today. Hoppe has been playing the game since he was a lad in kindergarten. Five years ago he was a professional player, and he has since then been performing so brilliantly, so wonderfully that it seems that he is a miracle worker.

"Carelessness has kept out of the championship class many men who had wonderful natural skill with the cue," said Hoppe. "The greatest trouble with the average billiardist is that he grows careless with an easy shot before him and frequently he falls down. Early in my career I saw the mistake that others made and I resolved that I always would exercise as much in playing on easy shot as a hard one.

"Perfect control of all the wrist muscles, in my mind, is the main essential to billiard success. Unless this control is acquired—and acquired fully—one cannot become a real billiardist because, in critical moments in a game, the lack of control of even the minutest muscle will lose a shot for a man.

Declares Draw Shot is Best.
"Judgment of speed and distance really depend upon the muscular control. If a man has his muscles under control he can send a ball just as far and as fast as he wants. If he hasn't his speed and distance calculations often go awry."

Hoppe changes his stance after every shot. He never deviates from that rule, even though his succeeding shot is so simple that he could make it with his eyes closed. Hoppe's theory is that by changing stance it gives the muscles a chance to slip back into their original position so that when he calls upon them for the next shot they will answer readily and normally.

"In my opinion," said Hoppe, "the draw shot is the most valuable in a game of billiards. When a player has reached the point where he has control and a good draw shot is on his way toward the championship class, a draw shot is the basis for all the variations of English."

Hoppe declared that playing for position is merely a matter of practice.

Practice Perfects Position Play.
"The rule of billiards is simple," he said. "Keep the balls as closely together as possible so that it will be easy to make the next shot. Acquiring position consistently needs practice—and care. But one who is patient and who goes at the thing whole heartily is sure to succeed."

Hoppe leaped into International fame ten or eleven years ago when he went to France and surprised the entire billiard world by beating Vignaux, the wonderful Frenchman. Hoppe was a mere boy at the time—still in his teens—and the "wise ones" declared that his victory was a fluke.

But events since then have shown that it wasn't a fluke victory; they have shown that Hoppe is the greatest billiard player of this age and in the opinion of many, the greatest in the long history of the one game.

Schedule of Games This Week.

Thursday, Nov. 25th, Elizabeth at Jersey City; Paterson at Stamford.
Friday, Nov. 26th, Kingston at Brooklyn.
Saturday, Nov. 27th, Stamford at Paterson; Brooklyn at Kingston; Jersey City at Elizabeth.

The three cornered tie for the lead in the Interstate Basketball League has been broken, but Stamford, Jersey City and Kingston are still neck and neck with just a few points separating them. Following in their wake are Paterson and Brooklyn, who are in a position to jump into the first division this week.

Elizabeth, which has been handicapped by reason of injuries to two of her best players and the inexperience of several men in professional league basketball, is holding down the cellar position, but Manager Manning has strings out for several new men which ought to enable Heston to get back in the running for the championship.

An application has been received for the Hoboken franchise and will be acted upon at this week's meeting. Several promoters of Newark are anxious to place a team in that city, and as soon as satisfactory arrangements are completed for a suitable hall, their application will be presented.

FREEMAN DELIVERY GUARANTEED.

If carrier misses you call up the Western Union and special messenger will bring the paper. The Freeman has completed arrangements with the Western Union Telegraph Company, whereby The Freeman is able to guarantee delivery every night to carrier subscribers in all parts of Kingston. No regular subscriber of The Freeman ever needs to miss a single copy. If the carrier boy misses you, call the Western Union and tell them that your Freeman did not come. That is all you need to do. A Western Union messenger boy will rush a copy of The Freeman to you at once. There is no charge for this service. It is merely in line with the policy of The Freeman to serve the public to the best of its ability at all times and in all ways. The Freeman pays the bill. The point is that you want to have your Freeman every night in the week and we intend that you shall have it. And we have adopted this method to guarantee delivery. After 6:30 o'clock, when you miss your paper, call up "Western Union," and you will receive The Freeman in quick order. This applies at present only to persons supplied by regular Freeman carriers and carriers employed by William O'Reilly. The plan may be extended later.

defeated a team in the league away from home Saturday night, but it was not to be, as you no doubt know Stamford beat us 24 to 18. That we lost the game was caused without any doubt by the condition of the floor. The teams down here are commencing to know that our boys cannot get around on the slippery floors, especially Johnson and Henschel. When we got to Stamford we round the floor about as bad as Jersey City was. They gave us an excuse that there had been a dance the night before. Ward Brennan upheld me in the contention that the floor was too slippery and ordered them to put some rosin on the floor. You can easily guess what the captain of the army said. Rather than start an argument, however, we allowed them to get by on it and it was a bum game. It strikes me that the home team also suffers by this as the exhibition the teams give is not in a class with what they give on a first floor. At the usual Sunday meeting I again brought up this matter of slippery floors and Secretary O'Brien has agreed to personally go to all the games at home around New York for the next two weeks, and any floor found unfit to play, the game will not start until the home team has mopped the floor to the effect to deaden it.

The most important thing that came up in the meeting was that the Troy team of Hoboken put up a $50 deposit for a place in the league. After considerable discussion, it was decided to give them two weeks with a committee of two managers to find one more applicant so as to make the circuit an eight club one. This team will be a fine addition to us as they draw on an average 1,500 people to each game. They play in Jersey City Heights Sunday afternoons and the crowds are tremendous. Also, they are very strong rivals with the Jersey City team in our league and when those two teams get together, it will mean some game.

Last Sunday we beat the original Troy team, which is another Sunday team in Hoboken managed by Harry Wallum. Their lineup of Clinton, Wallum, Harvey, Swenson and Brugy is some team. We went over expecting that we would not get a chance. As soon as we got there, however, we found at last a fine playing floor and a good referee (Frank Hill). We promptly went in to win and we did. Can you imagine us losing to Stamford and then beating a team like this? It goes to show what fair conditions mean. It was my second game and when we had to play an extra five minutes, it felt to me as if it was an extra day. However, through great playing by Henschel, Tome and Barger we won out. I feel sure that when they get these floors in shape so that the big men can get under way, we will give them all something to think about. We have lost Tubby Lamb. He has been studying law for some time. At first, he did not want to play at all, but Sid Barger and I kept after him until he finally consented. After the game Saturday night he told us that he could not keep it up. It puts him behind in his work and study. He also has to go to some home for the boys which the city of New York maintains up in New York state somewhere and commencing this week he has to go there every Saturday and that also will take quite some of his time. We are already after another man and this time it must be some one that can play all the games.

If we succeed in securing another team and I think there is an application from Newark to play Monday nights, I think the league will be benefited a good bit. It will mean that teams will be playing almost every night during the week, which would be a good thing as it would keep the league before the papers all the time. Another thing, it would give the boys more games, which they all want, and would do away with their playing outside games, which all of them are doing now.

Now in regards to the game Saturday night. I forgot to speak to you about it last Friday night and I wanted to have Fitz announce it to the audience. I suggested we start the game at 9:30, or even a little later, so as to get our regular patrons who work until a chance to come. Quite a number of them spoke to me Friday night about it. Have dancing start promptly at 8 p. m. and keep it up until close at 9:30 and then start the game between then and 10. This would give everyone a chance and would also give them plenty of dancing. Will you speak to Fitz about it and if he thinks it O. K. boost it as much as you can. I think if we can get out of town people to know it, like Elizabeth and Saugerties, that we will have quite a few from those towns. It is something new and it might be a good thing to revive the game.

Our game at Elizabeth for Wednesday night is postponed. They have swapped dates with Stamford. From now Elizabeth is to play their home games on Saturday nights and Stamford play their home games on Thursday nights. I am enclosing herewith a score of the Sunday game. If you care to use it, change the points scored and take nine off and give them to the regular boys. I am not in there any more for points scored and the other boys like to have them. I was pleased for the fact that the boys were fighting every minute which is what I have been after. The biggest trouble with these out of town games is that I can't get near enough to them to keep them going. You understand that this Brooklyn team has Sedran and Friedman playing under the names of Roberts and Lee? Their real lineup is Sedran and Schmeick, forwards; Ruckert, center; and Friedman and Ripley, guards. That is also the team we expect to have up in Kingston Saturday night. With best regards to all.

and get out a fresh pipeful of LIBERTY. Man, that's tobacco satisfaction for you! Just like old times, ain't it—when you used to work on the outside, before you took the inside job. And the old LIBERTY habit is a mighty good habit, too.

A naturally sweet, juicy chew or rich, fragrant smoke of ripe Kentucky tobacco, aged for three to five years to bring out all the mellowness and smoothness—that's

LIBERTY Long Cut Tobacco

LIBERTY is an honest, healthful, pure tobacco for men who like their chewing or smoking to have a solid satisfaction to it. You get tobacco-hungry lots of times, and no insipid "hash" will come anywhere near suiting you.

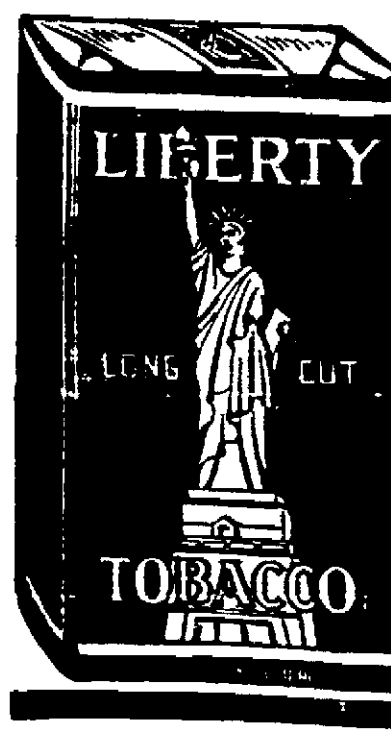

You must have your LIBERTY. It's as satisfying as a square meal—the standby of the he-boys with vigor and vim in them.

Those rich, juicy strands of pure LIBERTY have a flavor and mouth-filling quality you can get no other way.

A week's trial will prove that LIBERTY can keep right on satisfying you, day after day. Then you will keep right on using LIBERTY.

Victrola IV $15

Victrola XVI $200

Which style Victrola do you prefer?

The portable models ($15, $25, $40, $50) are often selected because they are easier to move from room to room, if desired, than the full-length cabinet styles ($75, $100, $150, $200).

No matter which instrument you select, whether the $15 Victrola or the Victrola XVI at $200, or any style between, they all play every record in the Victor catalog.

Step in any time and hear your favorite music, and let us explain how you can easily secure a Victrola.
